

Leigh Holcomb, Ph.D.

Medical Science Liaison
Cephalon, Inc.

Dr. Leigh Holcomb has been employed as a Medical Science Liaison (MSL) with Medical Affairs at Cephalon for 4 ½ years. She is a field based scientist, whose primary role is to build collaborative scientific relationships with thought leaders involved in research, education and clinical care in the areas of sleep/wake and pain.

Prior to joining Cephalon, Dr. Holcomb was an Assistant Professor in the Department of Psychiatry at Texas A&M Health Science Center. She was also a primary investigator in the Neuropsychiatry Research Program with a focus on Alzheimer's disease, schizophrenia, bipolar disorder and depression. She completed her PhD at the University of South Florida Department of Pharmacology and Therapeutics (Tampa, FL) and a MS at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles, CA).